

PEARL HARBOR HISTORIC SITES

FACT SHEET

Welcoming more than 1.8 million visitors each year, the Pearl Harbor Historic Sites include several independent memorials and museums — some under the purview of the U.S. National Park Service and others operated by private, nonprofit organizations. Together, they carry forth the legacies of several of our nation's most treasured icons, enduring tributes to the valor and sacrifices of our veterans during a time when the future of our nation and the world truly hung in the balance. The result is a powerful visitor destination and cumulative educational experience that has grown far beyond that of a single day.
